

December 2017

We have many things going on in our classroom this month! We are busy preparing for the Christmas season and beginning a brand new trimester.

Each morning, we are involved with Advent activities. We are also focusing on "generosity" which is our virtue for study during the month of December. Before Thanksgiving, we were able to contribute eight shoeboxes for Operation Christmas Child and several bags of food for the Neighborhood Service Center. Our current service project is collecting pajamas. Detailed information is included with Mrs. Dahle's newsletter!

In math class we will begin a new chapter dealing with multiplication. We will be multiplying by two-digit numbers so it is essential that students know the basic multiplication facts. We are continuing to practice multiplication facts with Math Facts in a Flash and Mad Minute as well as with accuracy tests. Two students have demonstrated mastery of the basic multiplication facts and eight students have achieved one of our two multiplication goals! Watch the Friday Folder for weekly updates.

Please try to check your child's planner and HOME folder each night as there may be a communication for you. Thanks!

Blessings on a joyous holiday season,
Jennifer Kugath
