Ms. Hellevik's 4th Grade

From Ms. Hellevik...

Moving into November and December bring on a special, family-oriented time of year. Our class has been having discussions concerning virtues and qualities we can embody to help everyone in our community feel loved and welcome as we enter the Holiday Season!

Reminders...

- Please continue to send your students with a clean mask and water bottle every day!

Upcoming Events...

- December 4 – No School
- Dec. 21 – Jan. 1 – Christmas Break

In class this month...

Language Arts: We will finish many projects this month including our personal narrative stories and reading the first Harry Potter book as a class. Additionally, students have been hard at work learning about complete/complex/ simple sentence structure, prefixes / suffixes, synonyms /antonyms, plural nouns and more.

Math: While continually practicing our math basics, this month we dove into the world of fractions! We will continue next month moving from fractions to decimals.

Science: Matter is the name of the game in science this month. Matter is everything around us. It includes me, you, and this paper! We are beginning our discussion about how matter changes to create forms of energy powered by the sun!

Social Studies: We have explored many different indigenous cultures throughout this month. First, we learned about the practices of the Aztec, Mayan and Inca of Central America. Later, the nomadic lifestyle of early North Americans.
