

Classroom News...

Ms. Hellevik's 4th Grade

From Ms. Hellevik...

January brought a busy return to school work for students. We have also spent some time outside enjoying the snowy, wintery weather! Thank you for continuing to send your students with all the necessary outside gear!

Reminders...

- Please continue to send your students with a clean mask and water bottle every day!

Upcoming Events...

- February 15 - No School / President's Day

In class this month....

Language Arts: Students are beginning to plan and write their realistic fiction stories. They have already shown creativity in their characters, settings, and plot descriptions! Additionally, we continue to work on literary skills including parts of speech, r-controlled vowels, adages and proverbs, and more.

Math: We completed our multiplication unit. This included many multiplication strategies including partitioning rectangles and lattice method. Our next unit dives back into work with fractions!

Science: Our physical science unit is almost complete. We got to explore and discuss the power of magnets, gravity and waves this month!

Social Studies: Continuing from previous months, we discussed the characteristics of Native American societies. In addition, we explored the importance of upcoming Black History month and Martin Luther King Jr.

