Dear Parents

October went by in such a blur but the class is working on hard on everything they have worked on. I have already seen improvement in everyone's reading and understanding of what they read. I can't wait to share more with you all at conference later this month.

What We're Learning

Math: We are starting Unit 3; this unit starts by talking about number stories and continues to talk about addition and subtraction. Later we'll work on skip counting too.

Science: We'll be talking about changes in Animals, just like in our reading.

Language: As we work on writing, we'll be learning about the different type of sentences too.

Reading: We are starting a new unit this month. This unit is about changes in animals and the seasons. We'll also be working on initial blends, ck blend and final blends in words.

Writing: Each student will be working on writing a short book during this unit. The students have been working hard their writing stamina and I'm sure will do a great job.
